Description

This camSuit fits the Sony range of PDW-680, 700 and 800 XDCAM HD shoulder camcorders. It's a hand-made Cordura® nylon camera cover, with foam padding on the inside for maximum protection.

Transparent vinyl windows allow a clear view on, and complete access to the controls. The cover also has a built-in rain cover to protect your equipment in bad weather conditions.

A separate viewfinder cover and pouch for your wireless are also included in the package. It attaches to the back of the camSuit with hook and loop fasteners. The section on the side with the vinyl window for the monitor, can be opened in two part, one upwards and one downwards.

This item will be delivered to you in a waterproof pouch with zipper, which you can use for storing and transportation when not in active use.
