Description

Safely protected by the camRade desertSuit 2, you can finish your shoot at the beach, in the desert or any other location where dust, sand and/or water threaten to damage your ENG-style camera.

The desertSuit is a protective cover made of a white reflecting material which not only protects your high value equipment from dust and water, but also reduces the sun's heat on the camera. Made from a special fabric, the exterior will repel water and dust while the soft interior keeps out unwanted sounds caused by wind and rain.

The desertSuit has an Easy-on-Easy-off construction that covers the camera's body, viewfinder, lens, battery and microphone. The camera's control options are still available and visible for the camera operator through the vinyl windows and flaps.

Hook and loop fasteners seal the flaps to keep out the dust and rain. Hook and loop fasteners attached around the lens and the the bottom of the camera allow you to seal the cover to the camera.

This weather-proof camcorder cover will keep you shooting, even in extreme conditions and is delivered to you in a waterproof pouch with zipper.
